Service Corporation International Provides Nearly 2,000 Widows and Widowers Across the U.S. With Social Support

National Program Has Supported Thousands of Bereaved Spouses With Sense of Healing and Purpose Over the Last 40 Years

HOUSTON, Aug. 27, 2015 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- Service Corporation International (NYSE:SCI), an innovative leader in the funeral and cemetery industry, supports nearly 2,000 widows and widowers across the nation through the Living Information for Today (LIFT) program, which is designed to reinforce a sense of wholeness and purpose for those who have lost a spouse.

As the nation's baby boomers continue its steady stream into retirement age, some 800,000 Americans are becoming widows or widowers each year. Many experience different levels of grief, depression or a sense of feeling lost after the death of their spouse. With 50 chapters around the country, SCI LIFT provides widows and widowers who share similar loss experiences with the opportunity to socialize together in a positive and supportive atmosphere without any membership requirements, cost or obligation.

SCI LIFT has been instrumental in providing a network of healing and hope for thousands of people over the last 40 years by connecting bereaved spouses together through newsletters, bingo games and luncheons. Today, the program also offers group activities and special events such as day trips, cruises and excursions that take members all around the globe.

The SCI LIFT program's largest concentration of chapters is in Houston and surrounding areas with close to 600 members lead by Jackie Snider, SCI community outreach coordinator. Snider's late husband spearheaded the local group about 17 years ago. "Although it's not a therapy group, we do support one another, have a really good time and make sure everyone feels welcome," said Snider.

"The SCI LIFT programs are run by SCI and Dignity Memorial® employees and volunteers, many of whom already have full-time jobs," says Phil Jacobs, SCI's Chief Marketing Officer. "The SCI LIFT program not only provides for socialization, but it also illustrates the continuum of care that SCI and Dignity Memorial offer our families every day."

The successful national program has solidified friendships, created new relationships and even spawned nearly a dozen weddings since the program was established in 1975.
